FAILED TO MATERIALIZE.

That is What was the Matter With the Citizen's Depot Meeting.

The meeting of the citizens, which convened at the council chamber on Saturday night, under the call of Mayor Murphy, was noteworthy for only one thing: the absence of the citizens. The consideration of the matter of the removal of the depot from its present site was postponed indefinitely.

The continual howl about that "beastly place for a depot, phizz-ew!—Oh! my, why don't they move the depot out of these flats?" etc., was simply buncombe; nothing more. 'T was ever thus. It is quite evident the dissatisfaction over the old depot location was not general.

A JOURNAL reporter had it from Supt. of Bridges and Buildings De Clarke this morning, that were the non-action of the citizens of Salem final (and no one will doubt that it is) work will be commenced on the new depot building at the old location, in about ten days. The new building will be somewhat larger than the old one, and will be a very ornamental building. It is the intention of the company to move the switch to the east side of the main track, and to build the new depot clear on the west side of all the tracks. This in conformance with the wish of the traveling public, as expressed through these columns not long since. The city council should now begin to consider improvement of the walks to the depot from State street.

Adolph Mayer Assigns Again.

This morning a small knot of disappointed clerks and others could be seen gazing at the iron doors of the general merchandise establishment of Adolph Mayer, next the postoffice, and soon it began to be known that Mayer was trying to arrange an amicable settlement with his creditors. He filed his assignment this afternoon too late for the JOURNAL to get an itemized statement of his liabilities; but it was learned from Eugene Willis, of the Capitol Adventure Company, to whom the assignment was made, that the liabilities were a little in excess of $23,000, while he could probably find $15,000 or $16,000 assets. Murphy, Grant & Co., Rosenbaum & Co., of San Francisco and L. M. Haines of this city are the principal creditors, and he owes his wife's mother, a resident of Mississippi, $3600, borrowed money, which was placed in the business. The failure was occasioned, said a well informed business man, this afternoon, by Mayer's attempting to sell goods too cheaply. San Francisco creditors were crowding him, so he assigned, to protect the other creditors.

Nashed by a Horse.

A very serious, and perhaps fatal accident occurred about two miles this side of Silverton on Saturday evening. A young man named Bryan, already a cripple in his left arm and leg, mounted a young horse, with the intention of riding the animal to the pasture. The horse became fractious, threw Bryan, and then fell on him, crushing in his breast and head. Bryan was taken home by some one, and Dr. McClure of Silverton called in. Bryan could only be given rest at all, at last accounts, by heavy administrations of chloroform, and with every breath, a gurgle or rattle would sound in his breast, that seemed to show that his injuries were internal, and severe. He is not expected to recover.

Personal.

Mr. N. H. Frohlichstein, of Mobile, Ala., writes: I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, having used it for a severe attack of Bronchitis and Catarrh. It gave me instant relief and entirely cured me and I have not been afflicted since. I also beg to state that I had tried other remedies with no good result. Have also used Electric Bitters and Dr. King's New Life Pills, both of which I can recommend.

Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, is sold on a positive guarantee.

Trial bottles free at Dr. H. W. Cox's drug store.

Painless dental operations at Dr. T. C. Smith's, 92 State street.

Parasols, handkerchiefs, collars, cuffs, hosiers, corsets, and underwear at prices that will astonish the natives at E. L. L. Johnson's.

Catterlin & Hicks' crayons and pastels are the finest made on the coast. They can also beat the beater on baby pictures.

Miss Rocetta Smith, of East Portland, spent Sunday with Mrs. J. M. Coomer, and returned home on this morning's train.

The old shop or shed on the southeast corner of Liberty and Division streets, should be torn down, before its walls fall on somebody.

Says the Sunday Welcome: "The Misses Breyman, of Salem, Oregon, arrived in Washington last week for a short stay as friends of Senator and Mrs. Dolph. Miss Breyman has been pursuing her musical studies at the Conservatory in Boston during the past year." The Misses Breyman will be welcomed home by their many friends in August.

Miss Nellie Gilbert returned home from an extended visit to Portland Saturday night. Miss Addie Earhart accompanied her to this city.

Hon. J. T. Gregg, secretary of the republican state central committee, returned this morning from Ashland where he listened to John P. Irish firing his opening gun in the political campaign.

Daniel Delaney, of Dayton, W. T., shipped 87 head of two year old cattle to his farm near Dayton, from this city to-day. Mr. Delaney is Mrs. E. M. Lafore's father.

The sidewalk on the north side of Chemeketa, between Church and Cottage streets, is in an absolutely dangerous condition, and is a disgrace to the city, and the abutting property.

The opera house has been engaged for Hon. John P. Swift on May 25. Mr. Swift will endeavor to hold John P. Irish down on the political issue, of the day.

Otto Breyman, of Michigan, is visiting his brothers, Eugene and Werner Breyman and his sister, Mrs. E. M. Waite, in this city. Mr. Breyman says Michigan was very cold when he left, and he will stay in this state two months looking around.

Charley Watts, the job printer of Albany, and wife, and his father, Dr. J. W. Watts, of "Yanhill", are in the city. Charley is trying to stir the printers, or somebody, of this city, up to having some entertainment on May 26, when the Albany firemen's excursion will visit this city. It strikes the writer that the citizens of Salem should show our Albany friends some sort of courtesy on their arrival. The printers picnic committee will meet to-night to consider the matter of a picnic again.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., says: "We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for four years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by H. W. Cox."

Attention, Firemen!

The firemen of the Salem fire department are requested to meet at the Capital engine house, on Tuesday evening, at 7:30. Important business is to be considered. C. N. Churchill, chief engineer.

TELEGRAPHIC SPLINTS.

May 12.

In Shippensburg, Pa., the clothing store of a prohibition elector, was blown up yesterday, and whisky dealers are charged with the outrage.

In La Porte, Indiana, on Saturday, a young man, named George Cook, undertook the care of two small children during the temporary absence of the mother. The younger child, eleven months old, becoming restless, Cook shook it severely, breaking its neck. The unconscious innocent died instantly.

The steamer Geo. W. Elder arrived in Nanaimoo Saturday. She has on board Fuller, the murderer of Archbishop Seghers, who is being conveyed to McMeil's island for trial.

N. G. Yokum, a heavy real estate dealer, of Pasadena, who disappeared some time ago, has been found in Monmouth, Oregon. His friends had supposed him murdered.

Nicholas Didier, ex-treasurer of Lausanne township, Ohio, is short in his accounts $35,000.

Etna Cason Again!

Etna Magee (nee Cason), the girl who has been the heroine, or otherwise, of a dozen notorious escapades and romances is again on the downward path. Says the San Francisco Chronicle: "During Monday night Officer McKean, in searching for Irene Sibrine, a runaway girl of West Oakland, found her in company with Etna, the latter having deserted her hard-working alleged husband several days ago. Etna's story has been told in chapters many times, consisting of her alleged fall in Salem, Oregon, compelling Cason to marry her, her rescue from a fallen life in Oakland by the salvation army, her career as a tambourine lassie, her third and deeper fall in debauchery, her imprisonment for vagrancy and marriage to honest James Magee upon her release and promised reform. Then Cason claimed her as his wife and in attempting to assert it in the Magee household was pitched out the window by Magee. Two months later Cason induced her to run away with him, but at Stockton he was arrested for inducing her to lead a life of shame, and she returned to forgiving Magee. She has been living respectably for about two months." The people of Salem had a good deal of sympathy for this girl, at the time of her first trouble, which occurred here, but that is about worn out by this time. Etna is irrevocably bad.

Charles Dickens.

Said the Jersey City Argus, of Thursday, Feb. 2, 1888: "At the tabernacle last night, a large audience gathered to listen to Charles Dickens read selections from his father's works. Mr. Dickens was right at home on the Sands of Yarnmouth, and a better idea of the Peggotty household was obtained by his listeners when he had concluded than they had ever before possessed. He enters into the life of the humble family as a member of it, and describes their every day life precisely as one would expect it from the genuine member of the family. Mr. Dickens inherits the love of the humorous. The readings were a success, and Mr. Dickens will find himself a welcome visitor in Jersey City should he ever feel like stopping here again. He appears in Salem on May 22, under the auspices of the Willamette University."

A Lost Boy.

On last Thursday the home of Hon. Edwin T. Hatch, the republican nominee for state senator, near McCoy, Polk county, was the scene of a very worrying sensation. A pony that the children were in the habit of riding escaped from the barn, while Mr. and Mrs. Hatch were away, and the children went out into the field to get him. When Mr. and Mrs. Hatch returned home in the evening, Holt, the next to the youngest child, aged about four years, was found to be missing. After hunting the house, and out buildings thoroughly, they thought he must have followed the other children to the fields, so search was instituted there for him. When darkness fell, and still no traces of the lost boy, the family's uneasiness increased, and eight or ten men from McCoy came, in response to a summons, to aid in the search. The entire night was spent in searching through the grain fields, until at four o'clock in the morning he was found in the farthest part of the farm, sitting with his feet in a little ditch of water, fully a mile from home. To get where he was had crossed a swale with four inches of water in it at its most shallow place. His clothes were dry, except his stockings, and at last accounts the little fellow was none the worse for his night's outing.

He Had Been There.

"Well, John," said old man Jordan to his young friend, "you have just married, I hear."

"Yes, sir," he answered, with a spring morning smile; "just a month ago, and I want you to go up to dinner with me to-day."

"Have you got a cook?"

"No."

"Well, my boy, s'pose we go to a restaurant this time. You must remember I had a young wife once myself."—San Francisco Post.

REFEREE'S SALE.

STATE OF OREGON, 1888.
COUNTY OF MARION, 1888.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT BY virtue of a decree of partition and order of sale entered in the circuit court of the state of Oregon for Multnomah county, on the 15th day of June, 1887, and an amendatory decree thereto entered in said court on the Twentieth day of September, 1887,

In the partition suit of Amanda Flynn et al. vs. J. B. Smith et al. whereby it was ordered that the south east quarter of block 6 in Roberts' addition to the city of Salem, Marion county, Oregon, with the other real property belonging to the estate of John Smith, deceased, be sold. Now, therefore, by virtue of said decree and said amendment thereto, I, the undersigned, who was duly appointed by said court as a referee to sell said real property, will on Tuesday, the 31st day of May, 1888, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., at the court house door, in Marion county, Oregon, sell the above described real estate at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, in pursuance to said decree and amendment thereto.

THE CAPITOL ADVENTURE CO.

Attention to what we will Mention!

Know All, by these presents: That the Capitol Adventure Co. neither slumbers nor sleeps, but are awake and up to the times, and know well that owing to the depression of business in the East there will be many failures. Now we want to be ready to capture any bargains that may be offered on account of such failures, and to do this it will be necessary for us to be on hand in New York and Chicago, in person, and be armed with plenty of the commodity commonly called cash, with which we can boast the people of this country are well supplied, and in order for us to get it, we will from now until the first of August offer such bargains as will induce those having money to divide with us.

You all know that our Manager has been in business here for the last twenty years and always does as he advertises. About August 1st he will start East to buy a large fall stock, and in order to do this we will offer our whole stock of goods consisting of Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, Tobacco, Cigars, Paper, Envelopes, Notions, etc., at a great sacrifice, and in order that the general public may know that we mean business, we mention the price of some of our goods till August 1st.
